

JOHN DEERE

Operations Center Terms & Conditions- February 12th, 2020

Who received this email notice?

All users within an Operations Center Org. who have org access level 2 received an email notifying them that new terms and conditions will be coming on 2/12/20 and steps you can take now to prepare.

Why are we updating our Terms & Conditions?

Our current terms and conditions are based on individual users and not companies. Our new terms and conditions reflect our customer's businesses and allows us to better support for staff/structure changes. This is not a change in Deere's Data Usage Policy.

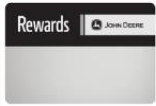

Expected Experience

Through this process we are asking orgs to verify their current information and accept the new terms and conditions. On February 12th when a user with access level 2 logs in they will go through the following process:

1. Login to MyJD and select 'Operations Center'

2. The following will pop-up. Follow through the prompts requesting you to verify the organizations intended use, the business's legal entity name and address, and your current team members and their permission levels. Lastly you will be asked to update the new terms and conditions.

Organization Terms and Conditions Overview

We've updated our Terms and Conditions and our Privacy Statement to reflect changes we've made to strengthen our services to you and to help you manage your data. This is part of our ongoing commitment to safeguard your information, and to establish clear ownership of the organization. Please refer to the JOHN DEERE DATA SERVICES & SUBSCRIPTIONS STATEMENT for details.

Acceptance of these Terms and Conditions are required for access to data stored within the organization and need to be accepted by the responsible party (Owner, Farm Manager, Administrator) for the organization listed below. By accepting the Terms and Conditions for this organization, you will be designated as its responsible party if one is not currently designated and you will be asked to enter contracts on behalf of this legal entity. As the responsible party, you may provide permissions to accept contracts to other staff members of the organization. This role may be transferred to others through the Team Manager tool and must be actively accepted by the other party. If you do not feel you should be the responsible party or are not authorized to accept contracts on behalf of this organization, please exit this flow and contact the appropriate staff member to complete the acceptance process.

As part of this update, you will be asked for:

- Intended Use of Organization
- Legal Name of Organization
- Organization Name (Displayed Name)
- Organization Address
- Review Current Staff, Partners, Permissions and Machines with Service Contracts
